

Eglingham Oil Buying Group

How it works

There is no formal membership or commitment by having your name on the members distribution list.

When a member of the list contacts the co-ordinator (Geoff Osmond on behalf of Eglingham Community Association) an email is sent to all members of the group asking if they want to be included in the next delivery.

The co-ordinator negotiates the best price with an oil supplier and places the bulk order, sending the supplier the address and contact details of the group members requiring a delivery.

The co-ordinator then sends an email to those requesting a delivery giving them the price per litre, contact number for the supplier and an approximate date for delivery. Members must then contact the supplier directly to make payment and confirm the date. This needs to be done promptly to secure your delivery.

Timescale between initial group email and delivery is around 10 working days.
